

Lifeline Volunteer: Applicant Information

Lifeline Shanghai (LLS) is a not-for-profit organisation, that was established in 2004 as an English speaking support helpline for foreigners living in Shanghai. Medical and mental health professionals recognised the need for a confidential, anonymous helpline to provide psychological support and information for expatriates in need. Volunteering with LLS and training as a Helpline Assistant, is rewarding both personally and professionally as trainees build and develop new skills through our dynamic training programs.

Essential Criteria for Helpline Assistants

- 21 years of age or older.
- English fluency both spoken and written.
- Minimum 6 months personal experience living in a foreign culture.
- Minimum 6 months living in China.
- Willingness and ability to be non-judgmental; to be able to listen and offer emotional support and convey empathy.
- No recent major loss or current major emotional crisis. (we suggest waiting for at least after any loss or major emotional crisis to take care of yourself)
- Commit to volunteer a minimum 8-hours per month and attend at least 4 Continuing Education sessions per year.
- Basis computer skills required for record keeping and accessing database information.
- Ability to attend ALL sessions of the 3-day training course and meet the RMB800 cost.

The Application Process

Once you have submitted your volunteering application to our Intake Coordinator for review, a decision will be made regarding acceptance to our limited training vacancies. Should all criteria be met our Intake Coordinator will communicate with you and arrange an interview, at your convenience. This interview process will be attended by two senior Lifeline team members and allows discussion and questions to be addressed by both parties. To ensure the quality of our service we screen applicants carefully, we acknowledge that becoming a Helpline Assistant is not suitable for everybody. After the interview process our Intake Coordinator will communicate with all applicants and advise them of the outcome of the interview process.

The Training Program

The mandatory 3-day training is held on a Saturday and Sunday of one weekend, followed by another Saturday two weeks later.

During the weeks in between training days a mandatory induction shift is to be completed. This is an introduction shift with an experienced volunteer (4-hours).

We may also require you to complete further training online during the period of physically attending ALL training classes.

If by any circumstance applicants are unable to attend ALL classes, we ask that you wait until our next training program and commit to 3 full days of participation in our training classes.

Training Program Topics

- An introduction to Lifeline
- Lifeline Code of Conduct and Ethics
- Cultural transitions and how Lifeline can help
